

From complete restorations and new installations to additions, remodels, partial re-shingling projects and repair work, we have been providing high-quality installations of cedar shingle siding since 1993. Attention to detail, aesthetics and a high level of professional service come standard. We are masters of our craft.

In addition to providing installations on everything from hillside cottages to estates we have also published how-to articles in Fine Homebuilding magazine, have been featured in the home improvement book ♦Renovation♦, and our work has received Architectural Heritage Restoration Awards.

You can expect the best.

Attention to detail and aesthetics and a high level of personal service is what you can expect. We welcome your inquiries regarding your project and would be happy to provide you with a list of local, completed projects for your viewing as well as references. Our work speaks for itself.

On occasion, we♦re asked to provide expertise and guidance on projects where homeowners or contractors are up to the task of performing their own installations. We♦re happy to share our knowledge and experience and are able to offer a variety of consulting services, including comprehensive workshops customized for a particular project. Tell us about your job, send us your blueprints and we♦ll guide you through the entire process of shingling your project the right way.

We also offer professional shingle siding inspections for homeowners, real estate agents and contractors. All inspection reports are unbiased and are identical whether provided to the buyer or seller of a property.
